

Dazzle dazzled us all!

Dear Families,

We were all treated to a wonderful performance on Monday night and I was so proud of the collective success but also the quiet, determined individual journeys to get to that stage. I know the children felt pride, excitement and even a bit of relief after their excellent delivery. This was a hard play; the high amount of words, the different range of songs and the sheer length was a challenge. Through the hard work of everyone involved they shone brightly (even without the stage lights– we didn't want to bake children on stage!). Thank you to everyone who came along to support. It was a truly super evening!

At this point in the year, every day brings an exciting event. Today, we have Head Pupil interviews and the Leavers' Service. I am trying to be organised, so I am writing this in the morning, before the day's events unfold. I look forward to seeing our children embrace these opportunities and grow through the challenge. In so many ways, that is one of the most important things St Mary's does: helping children step outside their comfort zones and believe in themselves in new, bigger, brighter ways. We want them to see themselves with the same aspiration, confidence, and love that we see in them every day.

With all the events (the Colour Run tonight is awesome!) we have before the end of term– enjoy, relish and let the children's love shine into your hearts too. Keep those photos in your head and hearts as childhood and primary education does not last very long and these amazing children deserve to be cherished.

Kind regards,

Mrs Jo Ayres

Headteacher

WATER SAFETY

Stay safe. Have fun. Enjoy the water.

DROWNING IS ONE OF THE LEADING CAUSES OF ACCIDENTAL DEATH IN CHILDREN IN THE UK. MOST INCIDENTS ARE PREVENTABLE.

As the weather warms up, children and young people spend more time around water – at home, on days out or on holiday. Let's keep them safe.

Almost half of drownings occur during the summer months when temperatures are higher – especially when 25°C or above.

THE HSCP WATER SAFETY TOOLKIT FOR PARENTS & CARERS INCLUDES:

EVERYDAY RISKS AT HOME

Reframe

When you're worried, you don't see things the way they really are. It helps to write down what you're worried about and then describe the situation as if you were a kind and honest observer.

Everyone saw what happened and now everyone's talking about it. All my friends are going to be fed up with me. I know my parents will find out and they will be angry with me too! Everything has gone wrong!

I made one mistake and the teacher has helped me understand the problem. One of my friends heard but s/he hasn't said anything. People who care for me will help me too. This was just one action from today. I've done lots of other things well today.

Governor News - the end of the School Year

And just like that, we have arrived at the last few days of this school year. Last September seems such a long time ago and there have been many memories made and lots of learning too across the months since then.

We would like to thank everyone who is part of the St Mary's Bentworth School Community for your commitment and partnership.

- To all the children - thank you for working hard, having fun and flourishing.
- To all the staff - thank you for your care and encouragement for each child. You are a wonderful team. We are fortunate to have you.
- To all the parents, families, friends and supporters - thank you for your trust in the staff to care for and teach your children, for your support in so many different ways - words of appreciation, time, coming to events, the PTA activities so much more.

We would like to wish the children who will be moving on from St Mary's Bentworth, and your families, the very best in your new schools. Thank you and best wishes to those members of staff also saying farewell at the end of the school year.

We look forward to welcoming back everyone when the new school year arrives.

But first, have a great summer break.

Top tips on how to talk to your children about their feelings

It can be so tricky to bring up difficult topics, and talking about emotions with your children can sometimes feel more than a little daunting for parents and carers. You may worry about saying the wrong thing, making your child feel uncomfortable, and even worry about making them feel worse. But the fact you want to explore emotions with your child is enough, even if sometimes it doesn't go as you planned!

Here are some handy tips on how you could begin talking to your children about their feelings.

Ask them what they need

It can be tough to talk about how you feel, and when we want to talk about things as parents, children don't always want to or feel ready. Asking what a child needs from you can help them feel more in control, heard, and respected.

Children might also not know what they need, so suggesting a few options can be a good starting point. For example, do you need some space right now?

Name it

Sometimes it can be hard for children to identify their feelings. Naming what you observe can help them to do this. For example, when talking to a young child, you might say, "You seem really angry today. I can see you are clenching your hands, and you don't have a happy face. I wonder if anything has made you angry or upset?"

Listen carefully

This sounds pretty straightforward, but sometimes, when we care, we may jump into problem-solving mode a little too hastily. And while it might come from a really good place, it's not always helpful.

Choose your timing wisely

Talking about feelings, or any difficult subject, can be quite sensitive. Choosing a time when you are both calm and relaxed can be more useful than choosing a time when there are any heightened emotions already at play.

Think about the setting

Talking about feelings can be really sensitive, so making sure the space is private, comfortable, and feels safe for your child can be key to a positive outcome.

Practice asking open questions (rather than closed ones)

Closed questions usually encourage yes or no type answers. Open questions, on the other hand, go a bit deeper and encourage more thinking and exploration. This simple difference in style might help your child consider their own thoughts and feelings a little more and encourage them to share more of their story or problem with you.

Think about whether your child feels ready to talk

Just because you want to talk doesn't mean they feel ready to. Look out for the things they say, and their body, too, for indicators on whether they really want to talk about their feelings.

Model it

Being more open and honest about how you yourself feel (in an age appropriate way, of course) can normalise the idea of talking about emotions. Children who see that adults also have big feelings, doubts, get scared or anxious, get frustrated with others at work, etc. might feel more comfortable opening up themselves.

Get creative

We might feel a pressure to have all the answers and say the right things, but sometimes, we just need to think a little differently. Helping our children express their feelings through play or using art materials can be just as important and useful, especially for much younger children whose natural language is often play.

Take away the intensity

It can be pretty daunting (on both sides) to sit down to talk about something as important as feelings. But decreasing some of the intensity can sometimes reduce the pressure and make things a little less stressful.

ST MARY'S BENTWORTH CLASS REPS 101

hello

Are you up for volunteering for just one year during your child's time at St Mary's?

Class Reps help keep the school community in the loop. With everyone doing a small share, nobody feels overloaded, and everything runs more smoothly.

It's simple, it's social, and it makes a big difference.

the basics...

What do Class Reps do?

- Share news from the PTA with your class (usually just forwarding WhatsApps).
- Prompt discussion for class fundraisers (it is not on you to organise them yourself).
- Attend PTA meetings (in person or online) or share them with your co-rep (about 3 meetings a year, so if you're sharing, it's only 1-2 over the entire time your child is at the school).

not a solo gig

Rest assured, being a Class Rep isn't about doing it all yourself - it's about sharing the load with other parents and teachers.

- Do it as a duo - split the year with another parent, or team up and share it throughout - whatever works best.
- Share the load - when fundraisers come up, it is not up to the rep to organise, simply to prompt the chat alongside the class teacher.

time commitment

- A handful of messages forwarded now and then.
- Around 3 PTA meetings a year (shared = about 1.5 meetings in total for your child's whole school career).
- For fundraising events, organisation is shared across the whole class (e.g. if you can't help on the day, you might be able to promote or help prep instead).
- A few hours max. That's it.

WELCOME TO THE ST MARY'S BENTWORTH FAMILY

hello

Did you know? When you became a parent at St Mary's Primary, YOU also became a member of our PTA.

Your support makes a world of difference. From fundraising to fun events, your involvement helps us create a richer learning environment, foster connections, and make lasting memories for all the children at St Mary's.

the why...

Every school, including St Mary's, strives to provide the best possible educational experiences within the parameters of government funding. However, these budgets have limitations. The PTA raises funds to enhance our children's school life, covering gaps left by official budgets and offering experiences that go beyond the core curriculum, ensuring our children enjoy the best possible environment in which to learn and play.

what do we fund?

Teachers Wish List - enhancing lessons with resources that bring learning to life.
Renovations - check out our Creation Station funded entirely by the PTA!
Emergency Fund - back up if classroom equipment needs replacing.
Outdoor Equipment - from fishing nets to sports equipment, we want our children to make the most of our surroundings.

and so much more...

how can you help?

We understand that everyone is balancing jobs and family life, so any help, big or small, is genuinely appreciated. Here are a few ways you can support your children's school:

- Lead a fundraiser
- Volunteer at PTA events
- Sign up to Easy Fundraising
- Seek event sponsorship
- Apply for grants

Looking for a nurturing, inspiring nursery where children are free to explore, wonder and learn through play?

At our Curiosity Approach nursery, we create beautiful, authentic environments that spark imagination, encourage independence and celebrate childhood. Every day is filled with opportunities for children to investigate, create and develop at their own pace in a warm, caring setting.

We offer 15 and 30 hours of fully funded childcare for eligible families.

Every day is an Open Day!

There's no need to wait for a special event—simply give us a call to arrange a visit at a time that suits you. We'd love to show you around, answer your questions, and let you experience what makes our nursery so special.

Call us today to arrange your visit – we'd love to meet you!
